The diagram illustrates the relationship between four concepts in software development. At the top is a light red box labeled 'Softwareentwicklungsprozess'. Below it, to the left, is another light red box labeled 'Softwareprodukt'. Further left and slightly lower is a dark red box labeled 'Realwelt'. At the bottom is a large dark red box labeled 'Modellierungsgegenstand'. Three lines connect the top three boxes to the bottom box: a vertical line from 'Softwareentwicklungsprozess', a diagonal line from 'Softwareprodukt', and a diagonal line from 'Realwelt'.
